Asa M. Beach.

Asa Marcellus Beach, who died on Monday evening, Feb. 10th, was born in Glover, Vt., Dec. 12, 1854, the only son of Ellsworth P. and Martha Barker Beach. His characteristic delight in animals and agriculture drew him away from the common school to be a farmer. The greater part of his life was spent in Glover. At first he lived with his parents, for whom he dutifully cared until their death in his early manhood. On February 12, 1880, he married Nancy E. Patterson. Two children were born of this union, Frank Ellsworth and Lennie Martha (Merriam). The untimely death of these two children cast a never-lifting shadow on the hearts of father and mother. After the children were grown the family moved to the large Hubbard farm, overlooking Parker pond, but because of the son's death, Mr. and Mrs. Beach were obliged to sell and go to Barton to live on Elm street for a short period of time, when they moved to the new home on the Barton River road. Soon after, January 14, 1911, Mrs. Beach, who had been in failing health, died, leaving Mr. Beach the sole survivor of the family. He plodded on, giving of himself in friendship and good cheer, an inspiration to his fellowmen.

On March 9, 1912, he married Mrs. Alma Corley and in 1917 they came to Orleans to make their home on the Heath farm on East street. His last sickness was a long and painful decline caused by heart and liver trouble. His splendid character was brought out by his brave fight for life, his kindness, cheerfulness and patience when the suffering was greatest and hope fleeing. He was conscious to the last moment, transacting business, greeting the many friends who came to see him. The funeral services were held at the home, Rev. W. A. Warner of the Congregational church, Barton, of which he was a member, and Rev. R. A. Hamilton officiating. He was laid at rest with his family in the little cemetery at West Glover on the anniversary of his first marriage. The survivors were four of his old friends, Allan Gilmour, Charles Cutler, George Young and John Smith. He is survived by his wife and four step-children, two grandchildren, Frank Beach and William Asa Merriam of Greenfield, Mass., an uncle, J. B. Barker of Barton, a few cousins and a host of friends, who mourn the loss of an excellent friend and neighbor.

Card of Thanks—We wish to thank the friends and neighbors for their kindness during the sickness and death of our husband and father.

and has moved her stock of millinery and ladies' furnishings.

A special school meeting is warned at the high school room Tuesday evening next at the schoolhouse to consider changes in the district line between the Orleans graded school district and the town district.

A full attendance of Red Cross workers is needed Thursday afternoon at the Orleans club rooms. It is hoped to finish and ship the February sewing then, as another large allotment is expected this week.

Miss Genevieve Phillips and Miss Frances Bennett entertained Mrs. Joslyn's Sunday school class of which they are members, at the home of Miss Phillips Friday evening. The evening was spent in playing games and singing, after which refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The library committee has sent an order for new books which it hopes to have ready for circulation early in March. One hundred dollars of the Book and Thimble club reserve fund earned in 1915, will be used for books at this time, besides the balance of town and village funds not needed for running expenses.

Among those who were in town to attend the funeral of A. M. Beach were Mrs. R. E. French, John Bean, D. D. Bean of St. Johnsbury, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Corley of Colebrook, N. H., Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Urie; Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Barber, Hiram Phillips and George Young of West Glover.

Miss Bessie Tillotson and Miss Lillian Findlay expect to leave Thursday for Washington, D. C., where they have government positions in the War Risk Insurance department. Miss Clara Dwinell will take Miss Tillotson's place in the first grade, and Miss Anna Corley will teach the third grade in place of Miss Findlay.

The Norwich glee club will give a
